

ABSTRACT

Ramdan Hatlah. Registration and Licensing System Investors in Gorontalo Provincial Investment Board. Final Program Information Management Department of Informatics Faculty of Engineering, State University of Gorontalo.

This study aims to analyze the Registration and Licensing Procedure and create a computerized system that can help address the problems that existed at the Regional Investment Board of Registration and Licensing System Investors, ranging from handling initial registration until the investor licensing arrangements..

How its done in this study is to perform planning, observations, collect data, identify problems, analyze the system and designing a system with object-oriented modeling and create a Registration and Licensing Information System Investor Web using PHP programming language for data processing and Xampp basenya

Based on this research, registration and permit procedures are still complicated and time consuming so it needs to be made a system that Information Systems Registration and Licensing Investor In Gorontalo Provincial Investment Board, which can help simplify the registration procedures and permit investors to more quickly and termanajemen well