

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1 Conclusion

After analyzing the data in eight articles of The Jakarta Post online on May 2012 which the different topic for instance: Statue of governor's father demolished, Buddhist to observe Waisak at Mendut, Borobudur temples, 52 women in tight clothing detained in Bireuen, child injured in storm in Medan, Russian journalists evacuated from Mt. Salak, 2nd Sumatran found poisoned in Indonesia, National awakening Day marked with rallies, and N. Maluku cancels school due to ash-filled air that taken randomly, there are twenty data were analyzed by using the aspect of meaning.

The aspects of meaning were divided into four aspects. There are; the first aspect is theme. Theme is the concept of the utterance. In this case I found three themes in this research. There are social theme, religion theme and environment theme. The second is feeling which refers to the speaker feelings. There are eight kinds of feelings that the speaker expresses, namely: three utterances consist of protest, an utterance indicate dissatisfaction, one utterance express helpful, an utterance express regret, wishful consist of one utterance, four utterances indicates into confident. Moreover, an utterance expresses speaker proud and six utterances including in sympathy expression.

In addition, the third is tone. Tone related with the diction that showed the emotion of the speaker. In this case, I found nine kinds of tone, there are claims, two utterances categorized into criticize, an utterance was disappointed, an utterance consist of excited, five utterances including into clear, two utterances were serious tone, three utterances were imperative, two utterances were worry and an utterances was complaining.

The last is the intension which discuss about the aim or the purposes of the speaker to the reader. Moreover, in this case I found they were eighteen utterances that consist of intention. The utterance was uttered by the interviewee or the informant of the articles.

5.2 Suggestion

This research is expected to help the students or reader to understand the semantic study more deeply especially the aspects of meaning in some article in The Jakarta Post online. Moreover, the reader or students can understand about the content of The Jakarta Post on whole. Additionally, this research can help the students or reader who wants to investigate further about the aspects of meaning in The Jakarta Post because it prepares the material as the reference for them.

Furthermore, it is suggested that by analyzing the articles of The Jakarta Post online reader can get new information that they already did not know. The article in The Jakarta Post online discusses about Indonesian uniqueness. Subsequently, the students or reader can add more knowledge about it.