

Chapter V

Conclusion and Suggestion

This chapter is talking about the conclusion of the research and the suggestion for the teacher and the students. Therefore, the following is the explanation of those two aspects

Conclusion

By seeing the result of research presented in the previous chapter, it can be conclude as follows:

Firstly, it can be conclude that the teacher use Lucky Number Game in teaching past continuous tense, this method is used in order to make the students feel not boring in English learning, it is supported by the students' answer that they prefer the teacher to use game in teaching English material especially past continuous tense material.

Secondly, it can be conclude that the students prefer to learn English by using game especially Lucky Number Game. In this case, the Lucky Number Game can motivate them in learning English, can make them understand in learning, the situation of learning environment created by the teacher by using Lucky Number Game make the can make their ability in English learning improved, it is supported by most of the students' statement that the Lucky Number Game can improve their ability in learning English.

Suggestion

By seeing the result of research, I can be suggested that the English teacher to use Lucky Number Game in teaching tenses especially teaching past continuous tense. It is because tenses is an important aspect in learning English in order to make the use of English more interested and valuable for the students.
