

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5. 1 Conclusion

Based on the explanation on previous chapter, I take conclusion of my research are as follows:

Firstly, motivation can drive people to do something or achieve something. Motivation is closed with the desire to implement the assignment to achieve the goal. Motivation is a power that comes not only from the inside but also from the outside which drives a person to achieve the certain goal which is decided before.

Secondly, the survey covers the intrinsic aspect of motivation such as enjoyable, challenging, interest, and it also covers the extrinsic aspect of motivation such as for getting high score, for getting praises, and for finishing assignment.

Finally, students at 5th semester of English Department have variation motivation in reading English text. Based on the research findings, the result of students' intrinsic motivation is 74% and students' extrinsic motivation is 70%, it can be categorized into high category.

5. 2 Suggestion

After conducting the research and made some conclusions about it, now it comes to the suggestions. The suggestions are explain as follows.

First, To built the students' habitually in reading English text and grown their interest.

Second, to enrich students' motivation in reading English text with some items appropriately.

Third, to create variation techniques not only for the materials in teaching that related with English text, but also for the methods of teaching and learning process in the classroom.

Fourth, to provide medium to built students' interest and motivation in reading English text.

Last but not least, for other researchers are expected to be able to conduct a similar research by using interview in the future time.
