

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter discusses the conclusion and suggestion. Conclusion is conducted after identifying and analyzing the research. Then, suggestion in this part leads further for the next researchers who are interested to conduct similar research in social class.

5.1 Conclusion

This research has been conducted and discussed the research problem of this research is “how are the conflicts of social class in Titanic by James Cameron?”. This research found 20 data of utterances contain conflicts of social class caused by economic background, 1 data of utterance contain conflicts of social class caused by education, and 3 data of utterances contain conflicts of social class caused by occupation. Every category has a characteristic of conflicts of social class in a society. Therefore, the aim of three categories of conflicts is to examine how the people interact one to another between classes.

This research also found that the conflicts of social class is not only occurred between upper class and lower class but also between upper class and upper class. This research can conclude that even there are classes in Titanic film, but it will be crushed by the power of love, because in the power of love people will not realize about the class. Like Jack and Rose did in Titanic film. They are from different classes but they can make it one in a love. They love each other and they sacrifice each other. Like they said “you jump I jump”. It means you die I will die with you.

Finally, for those of people who conduct a research about the class it is call Marxian. However Marxian always examine the classes between upper class and lower class in the perspective of conflicts of social class. This research comes up as the Marxian which is conducted the research of conflicts of social class in Titanic, and found that the conflict is not only occurred between classes but also in the same class. Also the conflicts are not only occurred when they interact one to another but also even they just say something it can indicate the conflicts. It is because what they said is probably against the other class.

5.2 Suggestion

There are some suggestion for the next researcher who will conduct a research in literary subject, especially in social conflicts. This research can be a reference for the next researcher to look forward the research problem in literary a society about the social conflicts. This research also hopefully can inspire and can guide the next researchers to conduct the research better than this. This research also a new research in English department. So that, hopefully there are some students will conduct the same subject like this research in order to our comprehension in conflicts of social class examine by using Marxist will going forward. As long as there are classes in society, there will be conflict also inside, so that, for the next researchers, still many case and research problem that you can conduct became an academic research.
