

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

Conclusion

The story about women is always become an interesting topic. Because the story of women not only talk about their weakness, but also women on traditional and culture perspective. Sometimes, in society, women portrayed as a people who just stay at home, become a mother for their children and a good wife for their husband.

Mona Lisa Smile is an American romantic film that reflected of that condition. However this film specifically describes about women in 1950's. This film took five women as a central of the story. They are Betty, Connie, Giselle and Katherine. They are portrayed feminism in their life. Where they as strong women in finished their problems, they could be good wife and good mother while they are also as professionals. This film tells about women freedom in marriage, and violence happened to the women. This also is battle of ideology between marriage and education.

From the tittle of this film, it conclude that Betty is the women who is meant by the tittle "Mona Lisa Smile". This tittle fully describe Betty's family by one picture, strong women who live in a sadness. Meanwhile they also portrayed as women that could rejected the family institution, capitalism system in society and they could avoid women violence in marriage.

Generally, this film portrayed of women in 1950's, who has a good record at class but their dream just marriage.

Suggestion

Based on the result of the research, there is some suggestion for the next researchers who are interesting in doing similar research. This research will gives contribution to comprehend of feminism research that used the theory of feminist Literary criticism.
