

ABSTRACT

Isnawati M. Muhsin. Nim : 321 408 042. Skripsi: Descriptive Study on Learning Process in Reading of Narrative text . Department of English Education, Faculty of Letter and Culture.StateUniversity of Gorontalo 2015.

The objectives of this study are to find out the method the teacher applied in teaching reading and the result of the method in students' comprehension in narrative text.

The data were taken from the observation in class and questionnaire for the students.

The result of this research shows that there is no specific method the teacher applied in teaching reading narrative text, however there are improvements from the students based on the method the teacher applied in class

Key word: teaching reading, learning reading, narrative text