

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

Conclusion

I conduct a research titled “Descriptive Study of Learning Process in Reading of Narrative Text. In this research, I conducted four times observations and interview to the students to know what method the teacher applied in class and the result of the method for students. I found out that the teacher did not apply any specific method of teaching reading because the teacher did not fulfill the every steps of the teaching reading method. However, by the method that the teacher applied in teaching reading, students had improvement in understanding the narrative text and identifying the generic structure of narrative text.

Suggestion

For researcher and students:

I hope for the next researcher who wants to conduct research in teaching reading method can use this research as a reference and improve their research. Furthermore, I hope the students will understand the benefit of applying the method in their reading so they can enjoy more in reading.

For teacher:

I hope teacher can improve this method so the way of their teaching in reading can be better and also they can make the students have well understanding in reading especially narrative text.
