

Chapter V

Conclusions and Suggestions

Conclusions

Based on the findings research and discussions on the previous chapter, the researcher found three types of compound words in Obama's speech through by analyzing the data. The data was found through official website namely White House website, which the researcher got many compound words in Obama's speech and it can be categorized as types of compound words. The researcher found all of type compound words in Obama's speech such as endocentric compound, exocentric compound, and copulative compound. In this part, the researcher found 74 endocentric compounds, 20 exocentric compounds and 6 copulative compounds in Obama's speech. In this case, Obama's speech often uses types of endocentric compounds in his speech than using exocentric compounds and copulative compounds. Therefore, the total of compound words that found in Obama's speech is 100.

In addition, compound words in Obama's speech have processes of compound words. In this case, the researcher focused in McCarthy theory, which in his theory there are three several process of compound words, such as compound noun, verb, and, adjective. Compound words in Obama's speech more often use process of compound noun, which in process of compound noun, the researcher found the process of compound words that was formed through process noun + noun, verb + noun, adverb +noun, adjective + noun, etc.

Furthermore, use compound words in speech actually is easy particularly in speaking, because compound words are easy to understand if we knew compound words itself and the types of compound words. In addition, compound words have processes of compound words. Therefore, it is easy to find out compound words in speech if we knew the types and the processes of compound words.

Suggestions

Based on the conclusions previously, the researcher would like to give some suggestions about the research, which have relations to compound words analysis particularly an analysis of compound words in Obama's speech.

For student who wants to conduct the research of compound words analysis, the researcher suggests, they should conduct the compound words analysis in other case, for example, they can do an analysis of compound words in movie, social media, headline news, etc due to so many compound words in there. In addition, if they want to conduct compound words in other case, it can make their research is different with this research.

For university students, the researcher suggests they should read this researcher, because this research can give them information about compound words, such as they can know definition of compound words, the types of compound words, and the processes of compound words according to experts. Many of students do not know compound words clearly, because some of them do not know the types of compound words and the processes of compound words. Therefore, if they read this research, they will know about compound words.

For the lectures, the researcher suggests they should teach the students to understand how to analyze compound words, because in compound words there are many interesting aspects, which can be analyzed. Therefore, students can realized some words that appear in their speaking are kind of compound words and they will not confuse to analyze the process of compound words.

For Department, the researcher suggests this researcher can add information of compound words in subject, particularly in morphology, because compound words are base of morphology. Thus, this research can help students to understand compound words.

