

Chapter V

Conclusion and Suggestion

In this chapter, I presents the conclusion and suggestion of research. They are:

After doing the research and present it on the research finding and discussion, so in this part will explain the conclusion and suggestion.

Based on the research, it can be conclude that some of students in SMU NEGERI 1 GORONTALO still confuse to use past tense in writing recount text. After the I get the data and then analyze their ability based on the correct verb on the test and calculating the data by using formula and the students ability in using past verb in writing recount text can be classification into "high" level. It is show from all of the total verb of the students correct verbs is 157 with percentage 61% and the total verb incorrect is 101 with percentage is 39% and can therefore, the total of students ability in using past verb in classification on the percentage of the total students correct verb. the students are in level 81% - 100% is 6 students' with percentage 30%, the students are in high level 61% - 80% is 4 students' with percentage 20%, the student in medium level is 6 students with percentage 30%, students in low level is 2 students with percentage 10% and the students in lowest level is 2 students with percentage 10%.

Finally, by pay attention the result of the data analyze of research it can conclude that the student ability is need to improve.

Suggestion

Based on the result and the process of research, I would like to give some suggestion as follows:

In this case, some of students still confuse and difficult to use past verb in writing recount text, so the teacher must to pay attention what the students problem and the teacher need to be a good model in practicing to use past verb and the students will follow what the teacher have done, especially in using past verb in writing recount text.

The teacher can improve the students ability in using past tense in recount text and to add material related to english learning.

The students should pay attention in learning process, especially in to learn material of past tense.

It is better for the school to provide the adequate facility which can support the learning process to keep to students motivation and interest.
