

Chapter V : Conclusion

From analysis of “The Little Glass Slipper”, the researcher found several conclusions. The main focus of the story is deliver moral value to the readers.

After analyzing the short story, the moral value in the “The Little Glass Slipper” has been divided in three moral values based on Suseno’s theory; namely good-attitude, justice, and self-respect. In “The little glass slipper” good-attitude they are unparalleled goodness, sweetness of temper, patience, courtesy, helpful, kind thought, and positive thinking. Justice they are respect to human right, and give the same change to other. Self-respect they are to be perfect to others, having strong belief to itself, and do not to be neglected. Those values are good way and will guide us to be better as ourselves, other people, and to the environment and we have to follow it. From analyzing moral values hopefully in this short story, it can build the good character for us as a human to solve the problem wisely and with right way.
