APPENDIX 1

Poem 1

“I Gave Myself to Him”

Emily Dickinson

I gave myself to him.
And took himself for pay
The solemn contract of a life
Was ratified this way

The wearth night dissappointed
Myself a poorer prove
Than this great purchaser suspect
The daily own of love

Depreciate the vision
But, till the merchant buy,
Still fable, in the isles of spice
The subtle cargoes lie

At least, ‘t is mutual risk
Some found it mutual gain
Sweet debt of life, each night to owe

Insolvent, every neon.

Poem 2

“The Moon is Distant from the Sea”

Emily Dickinson

The moon is distant from the sea,
And yet, with amber hands
She leads him, docile as a boy,
Along appointed sands.

The never misses a degree,
Obedient to her eye,
He comes just so far toward the town,
Just so far goes away.

Oh, signor, thine the amber hand,
A moon the distant sea,
Obedient to the least command
Thine eyes impose on me.

Poem 3

“Love is anterior to life”

Emily Dickinson

Love is anterior to life,
Posterior to death,
Initial of creation and
The exponent of breath.

Poem 4

“What if i say i shall not wait ?”

Emily dickinson

What if i say i shall no wait ?
What if i burst the fleshly gate
And pass, escaped, to thee ?
What if i file this mortal off,
See, where it hurt me. –that ‘s enough,-
And wade in liberty ?

The cannot take us, any more, -
Dungeons may call, and guns implore:
Unmeaning now, to me,
As laughter was an hour ago,
Or laces, or a travelling show,
Or who died yesterday ?

Poem 5

“To Loose Thee”

Emily Dickinson

To lose thee, sweeter than to gain
All other hearts I knew
‘t is true the drought is destitute,
But then I had the dew

The caspian has its realms of sand,
Its other realm of sea
Without the sterile perquisite
No caspian could be

*Docile as a Boy

Docile as a boy is an effect, treatment or doctrine to someone in order he/she will obey and listen to each command as well as a little child.

*Sands

The phrase "docile as a boy", in the third line, in the first stanza in a poem can be compared from the previous explanation of words and sentences in this poem. He was told as a treatment or treatment, and behavior that is applied to curb someone like a small child.

The word "Sands" in fourth line, in the first stanza, on this poem illustrates the parable of thought of as love and true love is desired.

In the sentence "docile as a boy" in this poem can be interpreted when viewed from the standpoint of compactness meaning of sentences previously. As well as in this poem also described the phrase "docile as a boy" means a person who is so obey every order of his life through the commands it receives. He was always obedient and do what he was told without reject. He kept rigid and strong in his life because he relies on an expectation in his life, that freedom is beautiful, she is so docile and easy to conquer as pigeons, and he weakens himself in order to reach the goal of his life. The boy in this poem likened to like his attitude, he always obeyed, all of which commanded him to get the rewards in the form of toys, money and sweets are here interpreted as goals, hopes, and dreams he wanted the freedom and happiness performance of her life.

In the sentence "sands" in this poem, when viewed from the compactness of meaning

		(P4, S1, L4)	Sands is the place to be the outermost line which is carved by wider sand beaches.	limited a sand beach with ocean or land. Both of these describes a contrasting interpretation between happiness is described as the coast facing the mainland. While on the other hand, there is a downside, namely pain and suffering was manifested by the coast facing the sea.	based on the meanings of sentences before it can be interpreted that the word sands are the "rules". Rules that occurs between two parts of contrasting views on the meaning of word meanings signified in sands above. The rules for this curb life never gave him a space of freedom and happiness. Sand like small granules are described as examinations should he road in his life. Like a beach bordering the ocean, he underwent this rule is like a command, and vice versa sand beach limited with the mainland is an interpretation of desire beautiful happiness after him through the sand test, and sand suffering in her life and she managed to escape of the rules for the sake of life happy.
		*Eye (P4, S2, L2)	Eye is a sense in the human body that takes a very vital role because it serves as a visual tool to analyze every second incident that happen.	The word "eye" or eyes, in the second line, in the second stanza, on this poem is described as a high position who control and rule with all the rights and authority. Mata is in control of every action and something decisive, seen from the meaning of the preceding sentence eye	In the word "eye" has a power that is very strong in every meaning set forth in poetry is, seen from the compactness of the meaning of the sentences before it can be interpreted that the word "eye" in this poem is the master, or the king who holds the freedom

		*Toward the Town (P4, S2, L3)	Toward the town is a clue that suggests a place that is the city, where shopping centers, business and the financial grow fast.	also holds something desired by the slaves of freedom, and in this eye it is. The phrase "toward the town" the third row in the second stanza in poetry depicts how the struggle to take things to change her life completely. The city is described as a place privileged, who have the luxury with sparkling lights and hustle community activities, and this is what he wanted.	of a person, or someone who has a very high position so that it has the authority to every command and rules. He who controls the way a person's life, what he should do, and how he should do it. Mata is a command that determines his freedom, which makes obedient eyes, made him suffer and this eye also is a key freedom. Therefore it is this that must be lived. In the word "toward the town" can be interpreted through the meanings of meaning in sentences earlier in this poem. A hope that will be directly proportional to reality when done with great effort. He just believe and are sure of one thing is the word "toward the town", he will achieve it, he has gone through many hardships in her life given by his employer. So he dared to dream in a city that is very beautiful and filled with opulence, he can have all he wants, and that's what he continued to do until he arrived at a point, or a place called the city of freedom.
