

Chapter 5 : Conclusions and Suggestion

Conclusions

Based on the research finding and discussion in the previous chapter, researcher then concludes and gives suggestion concerning on the students' problems in composing sentences by using comic strips and students difficulties in each aspect. It will be concluded that the students make mistake in all aspects of writing, they are grammar, vocabulary, mechanic and form/organization.

Basically, the students' ability in compose simple conversation by using comic actually was still need practice not only the students, but also the teacher should apply more effective strategies durring the learning process of writing skill.

Regarding the analysis above, researcher also classified the students writing ability viewed from each aspect into percentage of ability classification namely, in grammar aspect students just get 44% it mean that the students ability fall into less category, as for vocabulary aspect students just get 50% it mean the students capacity in writing is less category, mechanic aspects the students just get 54% can be seen students ability is less, and last aspect is form/organization students just get 52% it means students have less category. The total score of students in four aspecst in writing are 218

According to students result in four aspect can be conclude that each student must need learn more about writing because their ability to compose sentence in a comic strips (53%) is less category, just not it, teachers also must hadle the strategies of students learning in class.

Suggestion

Based on the result, the researcher offers some suggestions, the first is english teacher should give more frequencies of exercise and home work in order to develop the students' ability in writing skill.

The second, especially in writing skill the researcher suggests to the teacher to give more attention to use the aspects of writing, because based on the researcher experiences when the researcher conducted this research, the researcher found that students are still confuse to use aspects of writing (grammar,vocabulary mechanic and form/organization).

And the last is suggested to the students, they should practice more in writing english by concern more to the aspects of writing, students can improve the quality of their writing to be better. Therefore, they can produce not only good but also meaningful sentences.
