

Chapter V

Conclusion and Suggestion

This chapter present the conclusion and suggestion as final result of this reserach with the title is “Exploring of Instructional Media delivered by English Teachers in EFL classroom”. The following is a more detailed explanation about the conclusion and suggestion.

Conclusion

Based on result of research, there are some conclusion English teachers should realize that the ultimate goal of the English Language Teaching in junior high schools in Indonesia is to develop the learners’ communicative competence in oral and written ways. To achieve these goals, she has to prepare many things, such as developing syllabus, lesson planning, teaching materials, instructional media, language assessment, etc. Furthermore she also has to design a good strategy of teaching to create the class more meaningful, more alive, and more enjoyable. To create this condition, he/she should be creative and innovative in handling his/her class, developing the relevant teaching materials, and selecting the appropriate instructional media. So kinds of media is mostly used in teaching learning process is visual media “picture”. Because it is so easy to used and it is so effectively to used by the teacher.

Suggestion

From the result of this research, there are some suggestion for the teacher, the next researchers who want to do a reserach with this similar research..

To the Teachers

The Teachers need to know how to improve their skills in teaching and learning developing a good atmosphere in the classroom. so, students can learn comfortably and comfortably in their classes. In addition, teachers should be selective and creative in choosing the right materials to improve students' skills and improve students' motivation in learning English. Teachers can use some instructional media (audio, visual and audio visual) to improve students' ability in English. Use of media with the daily life of students and providing motivating material can motivate students to learn. The fact that instructional media gives us information and entertainment so, it can be used as teaching material.

The Next Researchers

For the next researchers is possible to conduct futher studies about common issues in English teacher by using of instructional media except in EFL classroom, Which is conducted on the seventh grade of Junior High School students. The writer hopes that this technique can be applied by other researcher in the other level students.
