

Chapter 5: Conclusion and Suggestion

This chapter presents the conclusion and suggestion of this research.

Conclusion

Based On The data analysis of research finding and discussion, the researcher would like to take the conclusion of this reseearch. The conclusion of this research researcher found the result of the data analysis in the previous chapter. After getting the result of study, the researcher concluded that Quiz Team Method was effective in teaching reading narrative text. By using Quiz Team Method, the teacher could create an interesting teaching learning process in the classroom because the students' could be happy and they would not get bored.

In the result of post-test eighty six percent which were higher than the pre-test seventy five percent. It means that teaching reading narrative text by using Quiz Team Method was better than teaching reading narrative text by using non Quiz Team Method. This learning method could makes students become active to learn with the activeness of students, it was effect the students learning outcomes.

Suggestion
