

Chapter V

Conclusion and Suggestions

This chapter presents the conclusion and suggestion as the final result of this research entitled “ An Analysis in Using Polysemy in English songs By Adele Laurie Blue Adkins”, consider to the data analysis and data interpretation in the previous chapter.

Conclusion

Based on this research it can be conclude that polysemy can be applied in song, which its function is to present the multiple meaning in song. That's way the words polysemy should be by readers or listeners what meaning of those represent contextually. In this research it is found there are 20 words of polysemy have a variety presented meaning among the songs. However, it is found others data of polysemy , which consist of 8 words. That actually have a variety meaning as polysemy words those are, build, fly, old, single, baby, bear, rose and right in Adele Laurie Blue Adkins Songs. Thus from the polysemy words that have been found in those songs can be classified their word classes consist of, verb, adjective, noun, adverb, conjunction, numeral, and preposition.

Suggestion

After conducting this research, I would like to give some suggestions especially for English learners. Polysemy is important to learnt in order to know purpose utterance. By learning polysemy, it can help the reader or listener to understand what the speakers wants utterance. I hope that the next research especially about polysemy an give more analysis or to do analysis more completely.
