

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

Conclusion

This research gives description about how is English directive speech act is uttered by the speaker based on the real situation in which it refers to the types of directive speech acts.

Although the data that has been taken is just the transcription of Nanny McPhee film that is about children and family genres but the result is giving description how English speaker is uttered the utterance. After doing analysis and observation, the researcher found several things that are scoped in the following points:

Directive speech act that is used in communication using direct and indirect directive speech acts. Direct directive speech act forms imperative sentences and indirect speech act refers to declarative and interrogative. Meaningfully, the types of directives speech acts that are found in the film Nanny McPhee involved four types, those are: commanding, prohibition, requesting, and advising.

Suggestion

This research gives description about how the use of directive speech acts in English. In this case, this research can give contribution for all aspects about the types of directive speech acts. For the next research, the researcher could develop the content of research by researching other aspect of directive speech acts such as politeness and factors of directive speech acts in the film or novels. For the Linguistics lecturers, hopefully they can develop this research in other linguistic aspects such as sociolinguistics, semantics, or other parts of pragmatics.
